

RADICAL HOMECOMING

Reclaiming Spaces,
Identities, and Futures

A gathering at the nexus of Afrofuturism, Indigenous futurisms, and the pursuit of environmental, economic, and spatial justice.

Eoyka Chilomé

Grace Dillon

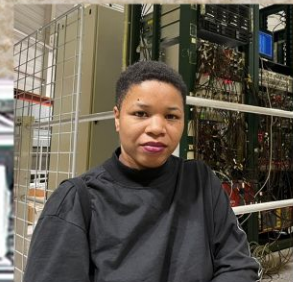

Tonika Lewis Johnson

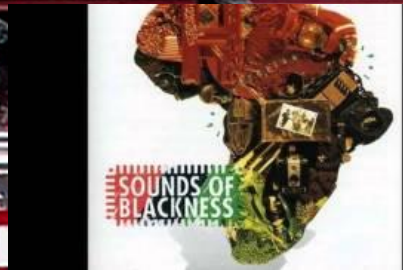

Mcrio Lafleur

Tanaya Winder

Rasheedah Phillips

HOUSING FUTURES

Radical Homecoming: Reclaiming Spaces, Identities, and Futures

Share your thoughts on what radical homecoming means to you and your community!

Space and Revolution

Rasheedah Phillips

Indigenous + Afrodiasporan Ways of Knowing

- Recognize oral traditions, storytelling, and communal wisdom as vital forms of knowledge.
- Challenge dominant narratives by validating diverse cultural perspectives in spatial planning.
- Emphasize emotional, spiritual, and cultural dimensions in spatial justice, beyond physical and economic reparations.
- Foster spaces and spatial dynamics that heal and empower, reflecting the community's holistic needs and aspirations.

- Applying liberatory frameworks (abolition, afrofuturism) to housing and land justice with new models vs. reconfigured systems
- Invoking Black, Indigenous and Brown spatial and temporal imaginaries in how you structure engagement
- Reimagining the ways that we collaborate with impacted people and communities and Co-developing new solutions outside of the crisis-response model

Space and A

Edyka Chilomé

---

Space and

Ingrid LaFleur

---

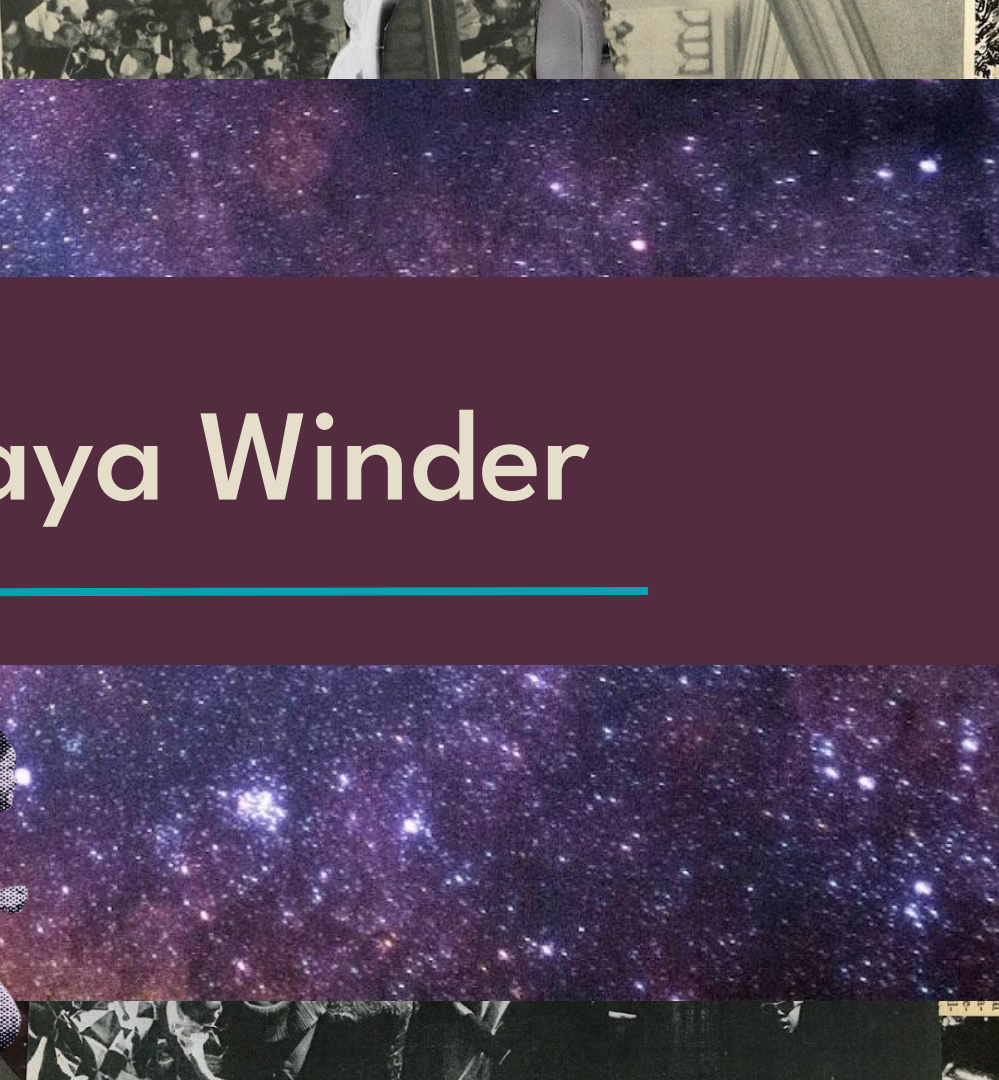

Space and

Tanaya Winder

---

Space and

Tonika Johnson Lewis

---

Space and

Grace Dillon

---

HOUSING
FUTURES